

Against All England: Regional Identity and Cheshire Writing, 1195-1656

By Robert W. Barrett

University of Notre Dame Press, United States, 2009. Paperback. Book Condition: New. Reissue.. 230 x 154 mm. Language: English . Brand New Book. Against All England examines a diverse set of poems, plays, and chronicles produced in Cheshire and its vicinity from the 1190s to the 1650s that collectively argue for the localization of British literary history. These works, including very early monastic writing emanating from St. Werburgh's Abbey, the Chester Whitsun plays, Sir Gawain and the Green Knight, seventeenth-century ceremonials, and various Stanley romances, share in the creation and revision of England's cultural tradition, demonstrating a vested interest in the intersection of landscape, language, and politics. Barrett's book grounds itself in Cestrian evidence in order to offer scholars a new, dynamic model of cultural topography, one that acknowledges the complex interlacing of regional and national identities within the longue duree extending from the post-Conquest period to the Restoration. Covering nearly five centuries of literary production within a single geographical location, the book challenges still dominant chronologies of literary history that emphasize cultural rupture and view the Renaissance as a sharp break from England's medieval past. ReFormations: Medieval and Early Modern interrogates and challenges the ways in...

READ ONLINE
[2.02 MB]

Reviews

A top quality publication along with the typeface applied was exciting to read through. It can be rally interesting through reading through time. Your life period will be enhance once you full reading this article book.

-- Prof. Demond McClure

This pdf is amazing. I actually have read and i also am sure that i am going to planning to read once more yet again in the foreseeable future. Your lifestyle period will probably be convert once you total looking at this publication.

-- Ms. Aileen Larkin